

Ant.

1.

H

OC genus * daemo-ni- ó-rum in nullo po-test ex-

The first line of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff contains a treble clef and a series of notes with stems pointing downwards. The lower staff contains a series of notes with stems pointing upwards. The lyrics are written below the lower staff.

í-re ni-si in o-ra-ti-ó-ne et je-júni-o.

The second line of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff contains a treble clef and a series of notes with stems pointing downwards. The lower staff contains a series of notes with stems pointing upwards. The lyrics are written below the lower staff.